

VITAL PHASES OF NRA ARE BEFORE SUPREME COURT

GOVERNMENT IS QUESTIONED BY FOUR JUSTICES

Information Bearing On Code-Making Is Sought

By William H. Mylander
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, May 2.—(P)—Supreme Court Justices bombarded the government with searching questions on two vital phases of the National Recovery Act today as the curtain rose on the crucial arguments over NRA's constitutional birthright.

One of the high court's liberals, Justice Stone, joined with three "conservatives," Justices Sutherland, McReynolds and VanDevanter in soliciting information bearing on the delegation of code-making authority to the president, and what constitutes interstate commerce.

While the high tribunal argument proceeded, the NRA was to the fore in these other developments:

A resolution extending NRA for a year, but eliminating regulation of intra-state businesses and price-fixing except in mineral industries, was reported by the senate finance committee. Two groups of senators found fault with it.

The committee's action was protested by the industry and business committee for NRA extension in a telegram read on the senate floor by Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.), which said a "temporary ten months or one year extension of emasculated NRA would be utterly disastrous to business and industry."

The business advisory council for the department of commerce, numismatists, recommended to President Hoover the continuance of the act for a further trial period of two years, but civil rather than criminal liability, and giving any industry the right to withdraw from any code provisions it may have accepted.

The Supreme Court proceedings found solicitor General Stanley Reed opening the battle for the government, with Donald Richberg, NRA head, ready to take up the cudgels tomorrow.

Joliet Officers Capture Ten In Raid; Find Loot

Three Patrol Wagons Needed To Carry Stolen Articles To Station

Joliet, Ill., May 2.—(P)—Police and deputy sheriffs today captured five men and five women in a raid on a 15 room house here and recovered loot which police said was taken in more than 30 robberies.

Those under arrest are: Thomas Cline, 21, of Bloomington, Ill.; Peter Smith, 42, auto theft parolee; William Bright, 49, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. George Quinlan, Chicago; Matthew Seifer, 18, Mary Salloway, 24, and her sister, Ida, 23, both of Chicago; Fay Schoenfeld, 23, and Catherine Larson, 21, Chicago.

Six sticks of dynamite and several revolvers were seized and police found in the pocketbook of Mrs. Quinlan a certificate of title to an automobile stolen from the Joliet Police Commissioner.

A raid on the Joliet home of Cline netted more loot. Three patrol wagons were required to carry the total loot to police headquarters.

MOTOR STRIKE IS SPREADING; LEADERS MEET

U. S. Ace Conciliator Meets Employers And Employees

Detroit, May 2.—(P)—Edward P. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, brought labor leaders and executives of General Motors Corporation together here today to discuss a basis for negotiation in the Toledo, Ohio, Chevrolet plant strike, spearhead of a situation which affected 26,000 workers in eight cities by strike or shutdown.

McGrady, ace conciliator of the department of labor, discussed the situation with Francis J. Dillon, American Federation of Labor organizer, as well as Dillon. He then turned to William F. Kunders, executive vice president of General Motors, and later all were closeted in conference at Knudsen's office.

The three avoided any statement relative to the Toledo plant strike. Effects of the Toledo strike spread today to Kansas City and St. Louis as Chevrolet and Fisher Body Company plants closed in each city for lack of parts.

Coincident with the conference in Detroit, M. E. Coyle, president of the Chevrolet company, announced at Flint, Mich., that the company's plants at Flint, Saginaw and Bay City would remain open regardless of the situation in units elsewhere.

The Flint plant, employing 14,000 workers, manufactures motors and sheet metal for use in twelve other plants. Coyle said parts and materials turned out in these plants would be stored until assembly lines began moving again.

At Toledo, Fred Schwake, business agent of the United Automobile Workers' Federal Union, said the plant of the Motors Products Company at Muncie, Ind., is being equipped to produce Chevrolet transmissions, and declared the strikers would carry their fight there if the plans were carried out. A group of pickets were reported to have moved to Muncie to observe the situation.

Financial Panic Has Struck Free City Of Danzig

Normal Activity Of Town Is Paralyzed By Runs On Banks And Stores

Danzig, Free City of Danzig, May 1.—(P)—Financial panic hit the Free City of Danzig when the population learned today the gulden had been devalued by 42.37 per cent.

Runs on banks and stores began immediately, paralyzing the normal activity of the city. A majority of stores shut their doors in the afternoon, but the banks faced the music until the regular closing time.

Several mass meetings were held by Nazi leaders to calm angered citizens with assurances the gulden would be in a better position as a result of devaluation, ordered by the senate, which has a Nazi majority.

The Volkstag held a hurried special session this afternoon and the senate named a price commissioner to keep prices from rising. Fears of inflation and soaring prices sent inhabitants en masse to shops to lay in stocks of clothing and household supplies.

There was a violent reaction among anti-Nazis who charged that extravagant spending by the senate drove the city's finances into a desperate condition and that the budget was kept secret.

The need of more money to run the government was given by these quarters as the real reason for devaluation, rather than speculative raids, said officials to have been the cause.

The gulden's gold coverage has dwindled under Nazi rule, but is said to be still sufficient to give the government a handsome profit under devaluation.

THREE INDICTED

Belleville, Ill., May 2.—(P)—Three negro election officials of Brooklyn, negro community, were indicted here today on charges of conspiracy to violate election laws, based on an alleged attempt to substitute a stuffed ballot box for a regular box in the school board election April 13.

Those named in the indictment were Will Ward and Alfred Campbell, Democratic election judges, and George Calhoun, election clerk and former secretary of the board of education. Campbell is a member of the board.

NEW PRISON RULES

Chester, Ill., May 2.—(P)—Instead of the usual punishment for violations of prison rules, forced wearing of stripes or confinement, Warden Joe Ragen, of the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard has invoked a ruling which bars miscreants from attending baseball games and picture shows held at the prison. It also forbids the plan works very effectively.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED FOR G. O. P. MEETING

Midwest Conference Will Be Held June 9-11

Springfield, Ill., May 2.—(P)—Definite arrangements were completed today for the June convention at which Republicans from nine midwestern states will make plans to reorganize the party for the 1936 presidential campaign.

It was understood the dates would be June 9 to 11, opening on the second Sunday of June.

Justus L. Johnson of Aurora, state chairman who has conferred with state officials about arrangements, said the official call would be issued within a few days by Harrison E. Spangler of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, one of the leaders at the Republican conference last week at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Governor Horner gave formal permission for the Republican assembly to be held in the coliseum at the state fairgrounds, where National Chairman Henry P. Fletcher addressed several thousand persons at the state convention last August.

Leaders of the Democratic legislature agreed that neither house would meet before the late afternoon of June 11, so as not to conflict with hotel arrangements for the Republican meeting.

Local committees have been appointed to assist with the arrangements and Don Garrison of Rushville has been placed in charge of a public office.

Diplomats Of France, Russia Sign Alliance

Pact Designed To Send Soldiers To Defense Of Either Nation

Paris, May 2.—(P)—The diplomats of France and Russia tonight signed a pact designed to send the soldiers of either nation on the march in defense of the other under certain circumstances.

The long-talked-of Franco-Russian accord, described by some as a virtual military alliance of pre-war vintage, was signed by Foreign Minister Pierre Laval and Ambassador Vladimir Potemkin of Soviet Russia.

The French insist it is not a military alliance because it was constructed to parallel obligations under the league, and does not conflict with Locarno or other treaties designed to keep the peace.

The accord, conceived after Germany's announcement of conscription on March 16, is designed to protect the signatories in the event of a German assault on the frontiers. It aids each country in case of "unprovoked attack" by any other European power, even though the aggressor is outside of the League of Nations. Germany is outside the league.

Administration Moves With Deliberate Caution Toward Spending of Relief Funds

By W. B. Ragsdale
Washington, May 2.—(P)—In the face of an army of job and project seekers that moved upon the capital by hundreds, the administration moved with deliberate caution today toward the actual spending of the $4,000,000,000 work relief fund.

Among the chief developments of the day: Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, planned the distribution of $100,000,000 among the states for relief work during May.

A program was outlined by which projects drafted by the some half hundred agencies that will handle work fund spending will be trimmed to fit employment needs of the relief areas in which they are located.

Senators Shipstead (Fl-Minn) and Murphy (D-La) forecast work funds would be used to develop the upper Mississippi channel.

BATTLE ROYAL OVER SOLDIER BONUS OPENED

Senate Proponents Of Patman, Harrison Bills Speak

Washington, May 2.—(P)—Opening a three-cornered battle royal over the bonus, senate proponents of the inflationary Patman and compromise Harrison payments plans today waved arms and shouted words in favor of their proposals.

Behind the scenes, in the senate cloakrooms, advocates of the middle ground Vinson bill struck softer blows, with some observers estimating a swing in that direction. Hours more debate remained ahead, however, before a final test of the politically potent issue.

Before crowded galleries, Chairman Harrison of the finance committee opened the debate with a prediction that President Roosevelt would sign his bill. The Mississippian contended his measure would cost a billion dollars less than the cash payment proposal.

Senator Long (D-La.) was equally emphatic in his assertion that the president would sign the Patman bill, passed by the house.

"The president won't sign the Patman bill," he shouted, with arms waving. "Didn't I tell you last year he wouldn't veto the Frazier-Lemke bill. And he didn't."

"How did I know? Not from any word from the president. He seldom sends me any word. But I know because the president is a good politician. I am a politician and a candidate for re-election. The president is a politician and a candidate for re-election. He won't veto the bonus."

Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) said the Patman bill, providing for payment of the certificates in new currency, was the only one of the three measures that would cash the bonus in full at once and argued for it as a means of raising the price level and restoring prosperity.

A former veteran, Senator Clark (D-Mo.) offered without debate the American Legion-backed Vinson bill, providing for full payment in existing currency.

Five Killed In Political Fight In Philippines

Eight Persons Are Wounded When Bullets Fly In Santa Rosa

Manila, May 3.—(Friday)—(P)—Five persons are known to have been killed and eight wounded in fighting last night and today between Sakdal political party extremists and the Philippine constabulary in Santa Rosa, province of Laguna.

Many were wounded in an exchange of gunfire at Santa Rosa, Laguna province, 30 miles from here.

Members of the constabulary were reported among the wounded. Some were brought to a Manila hospital.

Previously wire communications to and from the provinces both north and south of the capital were severed. Disturbances were reported in five provinces adjacent to Manila. Constabulary men were sent to points where wires were reported cut.

Authorities blamed the Sakdal society, a group of asserted extremists with communistic leanings already accused of plotting to assassinate Manuel Quezon, president of the insular Senate and foremost candidate for the commonwealth presidency.

Sakdalists resisted the constabulary at Santa Rosa, officers reported. Seven members of the society allegedly involved in the assassination plot are being prosecuted here on sedition charges.

The Sakdalists recently charged before Acting Governor General Joseph R. Hayden that they were being "threatened with prosecution for sedition" if they voted against ratification of the commonwealth constitution in the plebiscite to be held May 14.

LEGISLATURE WILL BE GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE TO PASS RELIEF BILL

H. C. PETERSON TELLS OFFICERS HE IS 'FIEND'

Claims He Could Not Resist Setting Several Fires

Chicago, May 2.—(P)—A young writer who termed himself a "fiend" and confessed to authorities he was the phantom firebug responsible for a series of incendiary fires faced possible murder charges tonight.

Herbert Carl Peterson, 30-year-old publishing house employe, and magazine author, was questioned by a psychiatrist as officials called an inquest for tomorrow in the death of Mrs. Julia Goldberg, 72, feeble widow trapped in one of the fires that spread terror through the Rogers Park district.

Detectives also released excerpts from voluminous diaries they found in the prisoner's room. Police Captain Patrick Harding stated it was the discovery of these intimate chronicles that led the captive to give them a detailed statement of his incendiary activities.

"I am a fiend—a fiend, was an oft repeated entry.

"I can't help my will," another set forth, "so help me, God."

"I would have no compunction against lighting a bomb and blowing the whole place literally to hell," a third, written apparently after a trip to a loop burlesque theatre, related, "if I could wipe out all sin and iniquity by so doing. I would not hesitate for an instant."

Other passages also recorded Peterson's aversion to sin, his resolutions for self-betterment.

Dr. Harry Hoffman of the Cook County Behavior Clinic interrogated Peterson in an effort to analyze the "peculiar mental process" which, according to Capt. Harding, influenced the youth to steal from building to building in the dawn of April 23, stuff paper under hall carpets and ignite eight fires. He was asked by investigators:

"What prompted you to set the fires?"

They quoted him as replying: "After a few drinks the spirits would whisper to me. They told me to start the fires."

Cuban National Police Round Up Eight Terrorists

Officers Advanced Theory That Suspects May Be Anarchists

Havana, May 2.—(P)—Cuban national police rounded up eight alleged international terrorists today, but asserted they had found no evidence that anarchist plots were connected with the Morro Castle disaster.

Asserting Bergdoll wanted to return to the United States and reclaim his $800,000 brewing fortune, which was seized by the government, when he fled the country, his blond young wife said:

"His exile of fifteen years, seems to me to be penalty enough, if he has done wrong. He wants to come home."

As she stepped off the Liner Washington with her four small children, Attorney General Cummings declared in Washington Bergdoll would receive no clemency from the department of justice.

The question of clemency would be one for the war department and the president, the attorney general asserted.

Bergdoll, who was captured after a three year evasion of the draft, was under a five year military sentence when he escaped to Germany.

Mrs. Bergdoll, whose German citizenship was left in doubt when she married the fugitive Philadelphia sufferer "too much."

"He would come back if they would not court-martial him," she said. "He is willing to go before the ordinary courts."

The council presented resolutions favoring a two-year extension of NRA and endorsing the principles of the administration's social security program.

Band Directors At Institutions Get Pay Increase

Springfield, Ill., May 2.—(P)—A $10 monthly salary increase for band directors at state institutions was voted by the House today at the request of Representative Frank Holten, East St. Louis Democrat.

Holten, a musician, has taken an active interest in sponsoring entertainment for inmates of the state hospitals.

During the debate, Richard J. Lyons, Libertyville Republican, suggested:

"If these bands are as good as you say, they should be brought to Springfield to entertain the legislature."

"That's a good idea," Holten said. "There are more insane people in this legislature, in proportion, than in the state hospitals. The only difference is that we get paid for being crazy."

DUST BOWL GETS FIRST RAIN IN MANY MONTHS

Half Inch Of Moisture However Swallowed Up Quickly

Springfield, Colo., May 2.—(P)—Rain for which plainsmen have prayed in their churches—and even tried to bomb out of the sky—fell at last but all too lightly today in part of the southwestern "dust bowl."

It bolstered hopes far more than it benefited the parched soil. Men, women and children in Baca county, Colorado, where a good rain has not fallen in three years, were awakened by the patter of drops and raced barefooted outside, shouting for joy.

The half inch of moisture was swallowed up so quickly that it did not even leave puddles.

Dust blew again today in the Oklahoma Panhandle which celebrated its annexation in 1890 to Oklahoma territory. The clouds of soil rolled over a parade of long-bearded cowmen and lumbering oxcarts which attracted a crowd of 25,000 persons to Guymon, Okla.

At Delhart, Tex., where Tex Thornton exploded 80 TNT bombs yesterday in an attempt to induce rain, dirt filled the air today. Thornton postponed plans to send other explosives aloft in balloons until conditions were more favorable.

Other points in the dust belt, including Boise City, Okla., and Dodge City, Kas., reported traces of moisture.

The Democrat Herald, Baca county weekly, got out a "rain extra."

The first moisture since January fell in Springfield. Residents said it appeared to be the "best" rain since 1932.

Fred Case, Baca county agent said the moisture in the soil is only about an inch deep and "we will need many more showers to this size or larger before planting of crops should be attempted."

64 ILLINOIS COUNTIES ARE WITHOUT FUNDS

1,000,000 Persons To Be Off Rolls Next Week, Claim

Springfield, Ill., May 2.—(P)—As more Illinois relief stations closed for lack of funds and the federal government refused to act, Governor Horner today announced the legislature will be given another chance next week to end the unemployment financing crisis by passing the sales tax increase bills.

The governor and house leaders issued statements blaming the republican minority in the house of representatives for blocking the administration bills to raise funds for the Illinois emergency relief commission.

On Monday afternoon, a day earlier than usual, the house will resume consideration of the bills to increase the retail sales tax to three percent and place a similar levy on utilities.

"Those who prevented passage of these bills last night will have to answer to their respective constituencies for their failure to support the relief program," Mr. Horner said.

At Chicago, officials of the relief commission estimated that 106,000 families in 64 counties were off relief and that half the total number of state's dependent population, estimated at more than 1,000,000, would be without aid next week.

Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, made good his promise that no more federal grants would be given the IERC unless the state contributes $3,000,000 monthly.

Democratic leaders of the legislature hoped that fourteen more votes could be obtained for the tax increase bills, permitting their enactment next Tuesday by the emergency majority of 102.

During the drastic curtailment of relief activities, which started before the May 1 deadline set by Hopkins, no disorganizing has been reported.

The Governor said he has no other program for relief financing and indicated the bills would not be passed by the constitutional majority of 77 votes if the drive for emergency enactment fails next week.

He said he had been informed that Hopkins has no intention of taking over the administration of relief in Illinois if the legislative deadlock continues. This was in further denial of rumors mentioned in the partisan debate over the relief bills last night.

Blaming the republicans, speaker John P. Devine said:

"Unless the people of the state bring those who refused to vote for these necessary relief measures to a sense of realization of their duty, the relief stations will continue to be closed for lack of funds to maintain them."

Rep. Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago, majority floor leader, issued a statement saying:

"The roll call indicates that some of the republican members who opposed the relief bill reside in districts which are much in need of relief and which have some of the largest relief loads in Illinois. Their vote indicated that they prefer partisan success rather than the opportunity to help those in need. They seem to be willing to sacrifice human lives and misery to party success."

Troubles Multiply For Truck Driver At Belleville, Ill.

Belleville, May 2.—(P)—Fred Cook, Myersburg, Tenn., truck driver, sat in jail here today while his troubles multiplied.

It all started several days ago when Cook was arrested for speeding and fined $50. He paid the fine promptly, by check, then authorities said he stopped payment on the check. They insist it wasn't any good anyway.

Today Cook drove his truck near Belleville and police arrested him. He was ordered to jail facing charges of issuing a fictitious check, operating a confidence game, false pretenses, violation of state motor vehicle laws and violation of the Belleville traffic ordinances.

ADJUDGED INSANE

Chicago, May 2.—(P)—William James Gardner, 56 year old bank teller who shot and killed two of his children, was adjudged insane today by a jury in the criminal court of Chief Justice Denis Sullivan and will be committed to the Illinois Security hospital at Menard.

The jury's action was in line with findings of a report submitted by Dr. Harry Hoffman, director of the Cook County Behavior Clinic, that Gardner is a victim of depressive insanity.

A Sad Situation

There was published in the press this week an account of the closing of the Brown shoe company factory at Charleston. Jacksonville citizens learn with regret that the industry which inspired community leaders here more than ten years ago to seek new industries, has had to close. "No business" is the brief explanation given by the company officials for the closing, which has thrown 1,100 people out of employment.

It was an enthusiastic group of local citizens who, back in the summer of 1922, visited the Charleston factory. At that time Jacksonville wanted the Brown concern to establish a factory here. The Charleston factory proved a real boon to that community, and has been the leading industry there for years. Its closing will mean real tragedy for Charleston.

Why any factory should have to close for lack of business in the face of much-heralded returning prosperity, it is difficult to understand. To have 1,100 people added to the body of unemployed in a single community is a real misfortune in these times, or

Washington on Communism

George Washington is generally believed to have lived in a day when there was no such thing as communism. Subversive attempts to sovietize the newly-born American nation could surely not exist. Yet Washington did know something about communists, and he worried over what they might do to the young nation.

In a letter to James Madison written in 1786 Washington told of a report sent him from Gen. Knox, who had been sent by the Continental Congress into the Massachusetts Bay colony on account of disturbances caused by a group of people. Washington quoted from the Knox report the following description of these people and their creed:

"Their creed is that the property of the United States has been protected from the confiscation of Britain by the joint exertions of all, and therefore ought to be the common property of all; and he that attempts opposition to this creed is an enemy to equity and justice, and ought to be swept from off the face of the earth."

"They are determined to annihilate all debts, public and private, and have agrarian laws, which are easily effected by means of unfunded paper money, which shall be a tender in all cases whatever."

These were early communists. It is fortunate for the country they did not gain a foothold, else this nation would never have had nearly 150 years of development under a free democratic government. The country would have been a second Russia, and perhaps just as backward and uncivilized as that nation remains after 17 years of communism.

Washington deplored such a creed and advocated opposition by the "wise and good" people of the Confederation. He would not have dealt with the communists in any gentle fashion, but would have suppressed the whole tribe, from parlor pinks to roaring reds.

Who's Your Boss?

When the average American worker gets his pay envelope or his check for salary or wages, he thinks he knows who his boss is. He feels that the employer who hands out the cash for services rendered is the boss. Imagine the surprise of the workers when he learns that his employer is not his real boss for at least four months in the year. He spends a third of his time working for the government, which consists of the 180,000 taxing bodies in the United States.

It has been found that one-third of the income of every producing person in the nation goes into the treasury of government in the form of taxes. To be sure, the citizen does not reach into his pocket and hand across the tax receipt, he pays the rest in indirect taxes added to the cost of whatever he consumes. Every time he drives his car, eats a meal, pays his rent, his fuel bill or any other bill, he pays taxes.

The burden has increased to a point where one third of all the money earned by the people of this country goes for taxes. The citizen has a right to inquire thoughtfully if he receives in services and benefits from government the full value of what he pays. Unless he gets value received, he is getting the worst of the bargain.

When it is understood that less than 2,000,000 people had taxable incomes in 1933, it is evident that indirect taxation catches most of the money that flows into government coffers. Back in the boom year of 1929, 71 per cent of the families in the country had incomes of less than $2,500 a year, but from this section of the population came the bulk of the money to carry on government.

Sane Thought Necessary

The Senate seems to be persuaded that it is necessary to do something for the tenant farmer; but it seems also to be persuaded that it is essential to proceed with a great deal of care, lest the remedy involve the nation in greater difficulties than the disease itself.

Thus the bill which would have Uncle Sam loan $1,000,000,000 to relieve dependent farm tenants is referred back to committee after nearly two weeks of debate. The committee is instructed to report not later than May 12.

That the helpless destitution of a large percentage of tenant farmers and "share-croppers" constitutes a national crisis is undeniable. But it is equally clear that hasty and ill-considered action to relieve it would be as bad as no action at all.

It is noteworthy that it was Senator Borah, himself a proponent of aid for tenant farmers, who moved to recommit the bill. Out of this move should come a sounder and saner relief plan.

Methodist Mission Societies Convene In Annual Meeting

Local People Attend Big Convention; Talks on Mission Subjects

More than a hundred representatives of missionary societies of Jacksonville, Murrayville, Pittsfield, Lynnhaven, Virginia, Bluff Springs, Rushville and other towns attended the annual meeting of the Methodist Woman's Home Missionary society of the Jacksonville District at Beards-town Wednesday.

Delegates from this city and county included Mrs. Fred J. Schofield, Mrs. W. S. Curtis, Stella Mae Cunningham, Mrs. F. H. Rowe, Mrs. Edward Streuter, Jeannette Scott, Clara Crawford, Edna Bracewell, Mrs. Clarence Quintal, Mrs. I. E. Parrett, Mrs. R. A. Hamilton, Mrs. Mary A. Flagg, Rev. and Mrs. T. B. Luge, Mrs. Harry Roach, Mrs. Clarence Rataichak, Mrs. Freeman A. Havighurst, Mrs. R. H. Harper, Mrs. Leona David, Mrs. W. E. Hall, Mrs. H. L. Griswold, Mrs. L. Rue and Mrs. M. J. Black, Jacksonville; Mrs. Susan Carlson, Mrs. Mae Cade, Mrs. Nettie Story, Rev. C. W. Gant, Mrs. J. A. Carlson, Murrayville.

The morning session opened with an executive meeting at 9 o'clock at the Methodist church followed by the devotional service led by the Rev. T. J. M. Crapp.

Brief talks relating to the study book reviewed this winter by missionary societies were given during the morning and afternoon, and a luncheon was served at noon to the guests.

In keeping with the nautical theme of the talks, and the conference slogan, "Friendships and Other Ships," the luncheon tables were arranged in the form of a ship with a flag on the mast at the prow.

Each table was decorated with tiny ships sailing down rivers formed with blue crepe paper, and at the end of the dining room was a miniature sea, with various hazards encountered by ships. A lighthouse gave warning of a rocky coast, and vessels were sailing the sea in which were rocks of Race Prejudice, Courage, Indifference, and many others. One Missionary ship was wrecked on the rocks of indifference. Miniature houses with beautiful lawns and shrubs, representing the Cunningham Home and other Missionary homes formed the "Beautiful Shores."

CAR ON FIRE, DRIVER TAKES IT TO FIREMEN
When the upholstering of Albert Morris' car caught fire Wednesday night he drove the car to the fire department. Firemen used a hand extinguisher to put out the smoldering blaze. Morris said he believed sparks from a cigarette ignited the upholstery, which was not damaged to any great extent.

Jacksonville Citizens Are "Fugitives" From The Chain Letter Gang

Send a Dime Racket Brings More Appeals for Cash

It's either become a send-a-dime enthusiast, or a fugitive from a chain letter.

They were still at it Thursday—writing for dimes. A batch of such letters received by Jacksonville citizens Wednesday was followed by another deluge yesterday. It seems that a number of recipients here have written to friends in this community. The appeals for dimes to keep the prosperity chain unbroken come from both without and within.

The scheme, explained as "a plan to bring back prosperity and redistribute wealth," is believed to have originated in Denver, Colo., only a short time ago. Post offices in several cities have been swamped with mail as a result. At the Jacksonville post office it was reported that there has not been a great increase in mail, but local citizens continue to get the "send a dime" letters at regular intervals.

The scheme is explained this way: "As the writer's name works its way up from the bottom to the top of the list, the number of letters containing that name multiplies to the sixth power of five or 15,625. If the writer gets a dime from each of the 15,625 recipients of the letters, he gets $1,562.50. The secret is keeping the chain unbroken."

One man in Denver is said to have purchased a motor car for his dime and stamps investment and there are stories that the scheme has brought a money into homes of families on relief. Office work has gone to the bow-wow in some cities and the chain letter racket has become all

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Look Back a Thousand Years and You'll Find "New Deal" Problems . . . Even the Chinese Had the Idea in B. C. Period . . . Prophetic Words From Henry George.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—There is one indoor pastime of which this community seems never to tire.

First, you have to have a book. Then you open it up, flick your chops, and start reading passages which tend to indicate that the problems of the New Deal are really only the same old problems of a hundred or a thousand years ago and that there really isn't anything new under the political-economic sun.

Thus a bureau chief recently pulled out from a library shelf Mark Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" and read therefrom certain comments of the central character, Sir Boss.

One assumes Mr. Roosevelt read them at one time or another and although it isn't on record that he seized the expression "New Deal" from Twain, the comments have a rather familiar ring in these days of worry over concentrated wealth and corporate power. Here's the passage:

"And now here I was, in a country where a right to say how the country should be governed was restricted to six persons in each thousand of its population."

For the 994 to express dissatisfaction with the regnant system and propose to change it would have made the whole six shudder as one man, it would have been so disloyal, so dishonorable, such putrid black treason.

"So to speak, I was become a stockholder in a corporation where 994 of the members furnished all the money and did all the work, and the other six elected themselves a permanent board of direction and took all the dividends."

"It seems to me that what the 994 dupes needed was a new deal."

Same View in 1883

A senator who has been an important manufacturer in his time says he was startled to find in Henry George's "Social Problems" (1883) a paragraph dealing with the machine age and technological unemployment which, if it were outside its context, you might suppose was issued from a brain truster fifty years later:

"It seems to me impossible to consider the present tendencies of our industrial development without a feeling that if there be no escape from them, the Chinese philosophers were right, and that the powers we have called into our service must ultimately destroy us."

"We are reducing the cost of production; but in doing so, are stinting children, and unfitting women for the duties of maternity and degrading men into the positions of mere feeders of machines. We are not lessening the fierceness of the struggle for existence."

"Though we work with an intensity and application that leaves the vast majority of us leaves time and power for little else, we have increased, not decreased, the anxieties of life. Insanity is increasing, suicide is increasing, the disposition to shun marriage is increasing."

"We are developing, on the one side, enormous fortunes, but on the other side, utter pariahs. These are symptoms of disease for which no gains can compensate."

Even Chinese Tried It
No end of forerunners to the New Deal have been unearthed from his-

Kiwanis Club Hears Talk on S.A. Douglas

Praising Stephen A. Douglas as a statesman and builder of the United States Judge Walter W. Wright speaking at the Thursday meeting of the local Kiwanis club declared that what this country needs now is more men like Douglas. People must use better judgment in placing men in office. Judge Wright declared, and particularly are they needed now with such critical problems facing the nation. Jacksonville has never produced a man greater than Douglas, said the speaker, and Illinois has no greater son than the Little Giant. The lives of Douglas and Lincoln were closely entwined, said Judge Wright, both were rivals in politics, Douglas being the outstanding man of his party. While Douglas enjoyed great popularity, Lincoln's public life was not full of happiness. Douglas traveled like a king, like a potentate and was received by the people in that manner. It is strange irony of fate that should obscure the life and deeds of Douglas while Lincoln should be so exalted. Judge Wright stated that he made this statement without attempting to disparage Lincoln. One reason of Douglas' success was his ability to make quick and lasting friendships. Douglas came to Jacksonville in 1833 and his rise to fame was rapid. He was the author of more constructive legislation both in the state and in the nation than possibly any other man, and he could have been president if he had chosen to do so.

I think I could get a job now as a refrigerator salesman. My wife and I have listened to the sales arguments of all these refrigerator people. We have heard about all the gadgets that are now supplied to keep the vegetables and salad materials from freezing and drying out and to protect foods from contaminating gases and odors. Having used ice for a number of years we never had to worry about any of these things... plenty of moisture, temperatures above freezing and a constant removal of odors by condensation and then out the drain."

My Cookery News Notes

By LUCILE HARRIS

Editor's Note: "Cookery News Notes" is a new feature of this newspaper, and will be followed with interest by our women readers. The writer is Lucile Harris, staff member of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, recognized authority on cookery of all kinds and especially meat cookery and the planning of meals around the meat course. Experimental cookery has developed a good deal of new information about cooking meat, which is contrary to old ideas. This series of articles will give our readers this new information in helpful form and will also give a series of excellent recipes and suggestions for serving the meat course of the meal.

BEFORE PAY DAY MEAL PLANNING

"What shall I have for dinner tonight? My food budget is getting low and I just can't think of a thing that sounds good and that is not expensive."

How many times have you moaned over the meal planning along toward the end of the month when you were trying to make the allowance for food stretch over a few more days?

That is the very time when some information is most welcome on the kinds of meat cuts which may be purchased for a song. It is wise and profitable to remember that in the carcass of every animal used for food there are certain cuts which are in great demand. These are the tender, so-called "choice" cuts, which, because of their texture and ease in cooking make up the greater part of the consumer demand. These cuts are naturally higher in price because of the greater demand for them, but there are the less-demanded cuts which offer many real bargains to the discerning shopper.

Proper Cooking Determines Tastiness
 If you are trying to buy most economically, you will find that you can provide your family with meals equally as tasty and just as nourishing by selecting these less-demanded cuts when economy is your watch word. These are the parts of the animal which have a good amount of connective tissue, but they also are just full of flavor. Get to know these cuts, treat them right, and they will help dispel pre-payday blues!

Tendering Methods
 Because of the greater quantity of connective tissue in these less-demanded cuts, they need some special attention. This connective tissue must be made tender. There are several ways to accomplish this. Cooking in moist heat will do it. Pounding will help and so will the acid in sour cream and tomatoes. And grinding will make the cuts so tender that you can roast or broil the ground meat. That probably accounts for all the recipes for meat loaf.

Sometimes meat is treated to a double dose of tendering treatment as in this recipe for Sour Cream Swiss Steak. The meat is first pounded, while the flour is being worked into it, then softened by acid when the sour cream or tomato juice is added. The acid reacts on the fibers and completes the job of making a luscious, tasty and tender meat dish.

Sour Cream Swiss Steak

2 pounds of round steak
 2 onions
 1 cup sour cream
 1 cup water
 1 cup butter
 2 tablespoons grated cheese
 Paprika
 Salt and pepper

Cut meat into pieces for serving. Pound as much flour into each piece as possible. Dust with pepper, salt and paprika and brown on both sides in butter. Add sliced onion, water and cream to which grated cheese has been added. Cover the pan tightly and let simmer until the meat is tender, about one and one-half to two hours. Serve with boiled rice which makes a splendid combination with the gravy.

A very attractive pot roast may be made from the boned and rolled chuck of beef. If this is soaked for a few days in an acid solution made with a small amount of vinegar and water to cover, your family will experience a new taste thrill. The German cooks call this Sauer Braten. The gravy may be made with this sour liquid and it is delicious served over boiled potatoes.

Sauer Braten

4 pounds beef, chuck, rump or round
 Salt and pepper
 1 onion, sliced
 3 bay leaves
 1 teaspoon peppercorns
 Vinegar and water
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup raisins

4-6 ginger snaps
 1 cup thick sour cream, if desired
 Sprinkle meat well with salt and pepper and rub in thoroughly. Place with onions, bay leaves and peppercorns in a deep earthen dish. Add water to vinegar (equal parts if vinegar is very strong) and salt and sugar to taste. Pour hot over meat, having enough liquid to cover. Cover dish well, put in cool place and let stand 8 days.

Brown meat which has been well drained, in a little hot fat. Add some of the spiced vinegar, cover tightly and cook slowly, 3 hours or longer, until tender. Remove meat from liquid and strain liquid. Remove fat. Let one-fourth cup sugar melt in a heavy skillet. Add very gradually the strained liquid, then the raisins and ginger snaps. Cook until thickened and smooth and pour while hot over the sliced meat. Add one cup thick sour cream to the gravy, if desired.

For the women who find it difficult to plan ahead and who may not want to soak the meat for several days, there is a short cut which will prove quite satisfactory if you prepare the following Spiced Pot-Roast in which the vinegar is more concentrated. A perfectly delicious gravy may be made with this Pot-Roast by thickening the liquid after the meat has been removed to a hot platter, with ginger snaps which have been rolled finely.

Spiced Pot-Roast

4 pounds beef (rump, round or tip sirloin)
 1 cup flour for dredging meat
 Lard for browning meat
 2 onions
 2 bay leaves
 1 teaspoon pepper
 5 whole cloves
 1 cup vinegar

Flour meat and sear on all sides in hot fat. Slice the onions and place them on top of meat. Add one-half cup hot water. Add vinegar and spices. If preferred, the spices may be put in cheese-cloth bag. Simmer for 3 hours, then thicken gravy.

In City Wednesday*Mayor Makes Welcome Address at Mass Meeting; Entertainment, Dance Held

Five hundred members and friends of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Local No. 199 attended the May day celebration held by the union here Wednesday. A parade with 210 cars in the line of march moved at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the route leading past the Capps and Prosterman clothing factories and through the business section.

After the parade the crowd assembled in the union hall on the north side of the square. L. Niemann, the union manager, introduced Mayor Fletcher J. Blackburn, who had headed the parade, and who now made a few remarks of welcome. Mr. Niemann expressed the pleasure of the organization at having Mayor Blackburn make his first public address as mayor at the workers' celebration.

Sam Smith of Chicago was the principal speaker of the afternoon. He discussed the progress made by organized labor during the present administration in Washington. A program of entertainment was also a feature of the day. Dancing and refreshments closed the celebration.

Miss Fleming Weds
Greene County Man*Couple Joined Wednesday in Pretty Church Ceremony at Jerseyville

Jerseyville, Ill.—St. Francis Xavier's church in this city was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday morning, May 1st, at eight o'clock when Miss Nellie Fleming of Jerseyville became the bride of Otto Langer of near Eldred.

The ceremony took place before the high altar of the church which had been attractively decorated for the occasion with white and purple lilacs. The single ring rites were performed by Rev. John J. Clancy, pastor of the church who was also celebrant of the Nuptial Mass which followed the wedding.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, P. J. Fleming of this city. She entered the church with her uncle, accompanied by her sister, Miss Mary Fleming of St. Louis, who served as bridesmaid. Miss Fleming and her attendants were met at the foot of the altar by the groom and the best man, Edgar Fleming, a brother of the bride, and they advanced to the sanctuary where the wedding took place.

During the wedding ceremony, Miss Helen Kaster of Carrollton sang, "O Promise Me" and at the mass she sang "On This Day" and "Gounod's Ave Maria". Following the Nuptial Mass, Mr. and Mrs. Langer received a special blessing at the Blessed Virgin Altar which was given to the church in memory of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Patrick Fleming.

Following the wedding services at the church a breakfast was served the bride party and others at the Brammeier Hotel. Covers were laid for forty-five guests at the dining tables where tulips and dogwood were used as decorations.

Miss Fleming is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fleming of Jerseyville. She attended local schools and for some time has been keeping house for her brother, Edgar Fleming at their residence on North State street.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Langer of near Eldred. For several years he has been engaged in farming, and the couple will make their home on a farm west of Carrollton. Immediately after the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Langer departed on a honeymoon trip during which they will attend the Kentucky Derby.

On Educational Tour;
See Institutions

Twenty-one newspaper carriers from the Peoria Star arrived in this city Thursday morning on a 2-day sight-seeing and educational tour of points of interest in Illinois, Iowa and Missouri. The boys are in charge of J. D. Strube and Norman Claus, circulation men of the star. The tour is a reward to the winners in three contests staged by the newspaper.

The delegation left Peoria Wednesday morning and on the first day stopped at Nauvoo, Fort Madison, Keokuk, Quincy and Hannibal. The party stopped Wednesday night at the Mark Twain hotel in Hannibal and spent sometime visiting the places so familiar to Samuel Clemens, the humorist whose characters are known to nearly every American boy.

From Hannibal the tourists came to this city Thursday morning and spent sometime visiting the Jacksonville State hospital and the schools of the Blind and Deaf. At each institution they were placed in charge of guides and shown much that they found of interest.

Leaving Jacksonville the party proceeded to Springfield to visit the Lincoln shrine. En route back to Peoria a stop was made at New Salem state park near Petersburg. The carriers arrived back home early last evening. The trip was made in a chartered bus.

Greene Athletes To Compete On Friday

New Set Of Records Agreed Upon: Carrollton Will Be Favorite

Carrollton-Greene county track and field athletes will gather here Friday for the annual all-county high school track and field meet, but as matters stand now, it is only a question of how many points Carrollton will get. The Hawks, hosts to the meet which will be held at Memorial park, last week captured the Illinois Valley championship with almost 50 points, defeating all of the four-year high schools in the county in that meet.

Nine schools will send their athletes to attack the set of records agreed upon last year after the annual meet. A mix-up over the former records, along with inaccurate timing and inaccurate distances, led the county organization to set up an entirely new list of records, going back only to 1930.

The records which will be under fire Friday are as follows:

100 yard dash—Mehrford, Roodhouse, 1933—10.2 seconds.

220 yard dash—Mehrford, Roodhouse, 1933—23.3 seconds.

440 yard run—Berry, Carrollton, 1933—55 seconds.

880 yard run—Gates, White Hall, 1933—2.06.

1 mile run—Seely, White Hall, 1934—4.49.7.

120 high hurdles—Bridgewater, White Hall, 1933—16.8.

220 low hurdles—Bridgewater, White Hall, 1933—27.2.

Pole vault—Miller, White Hall, 1933—11 ft. 6 in.

High jump—Page, Hillview, 1934—5 ft. 9 in.

Broad jump—Fair, White Hall, 1932—20 ft. 5 in.

Shot put—Bruce Royalty, Carrollton, 1932—44 feet, 2 in.

Javelin—Acres, Greenfield, 1932—160 ft. 8 in.

Discus throw—Mears, Greenfield, 1932—105 ft. 11 in.

560 yard relay—White Hall, 1932—1.34.6.

440 Freshman shuttle relay—Roodhouse, 1934—52.2.

All Big League Teams Are Idle

New York, May 2.—(AP)—For the first time since the curtain was raised on the 1935 major league season two weeks ago there was a complete lack of big league games today. Only three were on the schedule. New York-Brooklyn and Philadelphia-Boston in the National League and Detroit-St. Louis in the American, and rain and chilly weather made short work of them.

The other teams were travelling to open the first east-west intersectional rounds after an unusually successful start in the home sectors—successful at least from the financial standpoint because of big crowds and few postponements.

In 17 playing days so far only 21 postponements have been chalked up out of a total of 124 scheduled games in the two circuits and one of those already has been played off. That leaves only eleven American League games and nine in the National to be disposed of later in the season.

Discuss Lives of Beecher, Cartwright at Annual Meet of Historical Group

order to keep himself in the best of condition.

He was only 23 years of age when he was called at the Boston church and had spent only a year in a theological school. He was pastor there for five years before he was called to become president of the embryo college. Beecher made his first trip to Illinois in 1830, spent several months here looking over the situation, and then returned to the east where he spent the next two years raising funds for the new enterprise. He returned to Jacksonville in 1832, using the Illinois river as one of the highways, and traveling by horseback and stage over the remainder of the long journey.

Secularism was one of the first problems that faced the new college president when he arrived here. So furious did the battle of religion wage that at one time he was called upon to answer, along with Dr. Julian Sturtevant charges of heresy. Beecher also had trouble in explaining the break in a Presbyterian church which resulted in the formation of the Congregational church.

Because of his contact with the southern thought while a student at Yale, Beecher was not stirred so much by the slavery issue as he was by the riots which he interpreted as protests against the right of free speech and a free press. Beecher became a warm friend of Arnold Lovejoy, whose murder at Alton did more than anything to turn Beecher against the slavery forces.

The new college president attempted to obtain state aid for the college, going to the legislature, then at Springfield, in 1833 for the purpose of gaining a charter. The charter finally was issued in 1835 after many debates over churches and education.

Gifts of land to the college was the main means of endowing the school, but the college was forced to sell out much of its holdings for what it could get. During the panic of 1837 these holdings decreased rapidly.

In 1841 Beecher went east again to raise money and after staying there two years submitted his resignation. Dr. Sturtevant succeeded him. Beecher accepted a position as pastor of the Salem street church in Boston, and affiliated with his brother in publishing a magazine.

The same spirit which caused him to move to Jacksonville again touched him, and he went to Galesburg where he became identified with the underground railroad in 1835. He returned east again in 1871 and edited a church paper. In 1884 at the age of 61, he accepted an appointment as pastor of the Parkville church in Brooklyn.

Three children of the 11 born to Mr. and Mrs. Beecher survived. Beecher lived to be 82 years of age, and his wife died a few months after her husband. The Beecher family itself had an average age of 87 years.

Cartwright's Life
Relating some of the incidents which have been handed down in his family, the Rev. McHenry Blair told many interesting incidents of Cartwright's life in and near Jacksonville. Rev. Blair read one of the letters his grandfather received from Cartwright.

Disputing the claim that Jane Lucinda Vansycle was the first white child born in Morgan county, Frank J. Heintz, local historical authority, declared that investigation showed him that in order to claim this distinction, the Van Sycle girl would have had to have been born four years before a marriage license was issued to her parents in Morgan county.

Mr. Heintz, in his discourse, told the story of the conversion of Peter Cartwright during the religious revival of 1801 in Kentucky, at which between 20 and 30 thousand people gathered, and which had as many as seven ministers preaching at the same time. B. W. Stone was the pastor who kindled the religious spark in young Cartwright, and who also kindled a spark that spread to all parts of the nation.

President H. C. Jaquith of Illinois College, summarized the papers with an analysis of the character of Beecher, stating that it was his opinion that Beecher had an interesting if annoying time when he came to Illinois. That he did not particularly crave a theological argument, and that he was primarily interested in teaching and writing.

Two relics were turned over to the society, one of them the picture of

Huey Long Calls Roosevelt Knight Of "Nourmahal"

Delivers Address Entitled "The St. Vitus Dance Government"

Washington, May 2.—(P)—Calling President Roosevelt "The Knight of the Nourmahal," Senator Long (D-La.), tonight disputed his assertion that the chief executive could get a clearer perspective of things by fishing trips on the Vincent Astor yacht. Delivering an address over the National Broadcasting chain entitled "The St. Vitus Dance Government," Long asserted that unemployment was greater than when Mr. Roosevelt took office, that many were poorly clothed, and "some not clothed at all," that the dollar was greater, and that debts of all kinds were increasing. "And his only remedy is to borrow more money and go further in debt," Long said.

He quoted from the President's radio speech of last Sunday night, emphasizing several times the fact that the president had been aboard a yacht and doubting the president's assertion that he could thus obtain a "clearer" perspective.

"So he took himself aboard the $5,000,000 yacht owned by Vincent Astor," Long said, "where he was dead sure he would get a good idea of what was going on."

Long said that after meeting "a British prince and princess and fishing," he came ashore to say that everything was working out well. "That will do a great deal of good," the senator sarcastically exclaimed, "among the cotton hands who can't raise enough cotton to give them clothes."

REACH HALFWAY MARK IN FUND FOR DEBATERS

Secure $64.25 In Pledges To Send Debate Team To Ohio

Reaching the halfway point in the drive for funds, the Chamber of Commerce and the Journal and Courier today are prepared to make a last effort to raise the $125 needed by the Jacksonville high school debate team to defray part of their expenses at the national debate tournament to be held next week at Kent, Ohio. Pledges the first day amounted to $64.25, a little over half of the amount estimated to be necessary to send the J. H. S. team to the tournament.

Only today remains for persons who want to see Jacksonville represented at the national tournament to send or bring in their contributions to the Journal-Courier committee office, to the Chamber of Commerce, or leave them at the office of Principal J. C. Mutch at the high school. The debaters must be ready to leave at noon Saturday in order to be ready to begin their debates Monday morning.

One hundred and fifty schools will be represented at the national tournament this year. Jacksonville obtained one of the four places allotted to the state by finishing second to Duquoin at the Bloomington tournament. Elgin, Mendota and Duquoin are the other teams that will represent the state at Kent.

As additional evidence of the interest that debating is achieving in the state, was a news item yesterday from Duquoin describing a reception given the Duquoin team after winning the state championship. The team was met by a band and a large number of students, paraded through the city, and immediately assured of a chance to enter the national tournament.

Duquoin won the title from Jacksonville on a percentage basis, despite the fact that the local team scored more points than did the champions. Teachers and students at the high school yesterday contributed almost $25 toward the fund. Interested persons who contributed included the Illinois Power and Light Co., the Fox Theater, Morgan Dairy, Waddell & Co., E. M. Spink, Illinois Telephone company and R. T. Cassel.

The entire amount of $125 must be raised by tonight.

GIVES RECITAL AT MACMURRAY

James H. Cox Plays Junior Recital At Music Hall Thursday

On Thursday afternoon, James H. Cox of Jacksonville, pupil of Hugh Beggs, played his junior recital in music hall.

The program was offered in three parts, the first containing an "Airso" by Bach and the "Sonata Op. 26" by Beethoven, from which work the "Theme and Variations" only was played. The second group contained an older number, the "Ballet of the Happy Spirits" by Gluck, arranged by Friedman and two numbers from the romantic school, an "Etude" by Chopin and a "Nocturne" by Grieg.

The last group was of the more modern persuasion, consisting of "The Poor Rag Doll" by Villa Lobos and two numbers written by Mr. Cox. These numbers showed how very well the young man has used an excellent pair of ears and to what extent he is already able to absorb and use the modern idioms of combinations of the least usual intervals such as combined seconds, or fourths and his ability to add large intervals to bare fifths. He shows promise of being able to come into his own in the field of musical expression, though the way will no doubt be steep and long, and many disappointments will come to him before he has unflinchingly won the approval of a capriciously exacting public.

As to the playing he shows a fine appreciation of the message he conveys; his touch is musical and poetic; he plays with freedom fine pedaling and all other qualities which make piano playing a delight to the hearer.

He was assisted by two students from the studio of W. Z. Fletcher, both are members of the class of 1937. Miss Key sang four songs between the first and second groups of piano solo. The last number was a vocal solo, it is especially noted as a voice of the type that is Miss Key's.

Miss Jeanne Merritt also of the class of 1937 played the piano accompaniment for both singers and in this fourth number, Miss McMurdo of the class of 1935 brought a delightful note of variety to the accompaniment by playing an organ obligato.

Between the second and third groups, Miss Winona Rawlings sang two songs, an "Aria" from "Carmen" by Bizet. This voice of power and beauty showed to fine advantage, supported as it was by Miss Merritt's fine accompaniments.

The cast consists of the following: Gertrude Rohrer, Louise Taylor, Flora Owens, Mary Margaret Maher, Clarence Evans, Donald Workman, Eugene Gorman, Edward Fletcher and Howard Morris.

Edward Beecher, on the other hand Dr. Carl E. Black stated, represented a line of cultural people, outstanding in the history of early America, the Lyman Beechers.

At the time he accepted the call to come to Jacksonville, he was serving as pastor of the Park Street church in Boston, one of the most powerful churches in the east. Just what characteristic caused him to accept the presidency of the college which then was in its formative stage, probably will not be known, the speaker said, but indicated that it was his belief that Beecher was moved by a missionary motive.

Beecher was born in 1803, obtained a common and academic education, and then graduated from Yale as valedictorian of his class. He not only won a majority of the athletic honors of the year. He had given special study to physical education, and was regarded as the greatest Yale athlete of the time. So strongly was the idea of a healthy physical being impressed upon him that he spent two hours daily in some sort of manual labor in

Rough, rugged and bearing the imprint of his early years in the mountains of Kentucky was the picture Dr. C. P. McClelland, president of MacMurray college presented of Peter Cartwright, one of the co-founders of the college, as contrasted to the smooth, cultured and capable Edward Beecher, first president of Illinois College, as presented by Dr. Carl E. Black at the 110th annual meeting of the Morgan County Historical Society at the Colonial Inn, Thursday night.

Anecdotes, handed down from generation to generation regarding these two men, two of the seven great ministers of the early day who at one time made their headquarters in Jacksonville, were told the large gathering of the society by the two speakers, the Rev. McHenry Blair, Frank J. Heint, H. C. Jaquith, and the Rev. Fred Orsby, Paul F. Angle, secretary of the State Historical Society, was a guest at the meeting.

The subjects, both of whom were great forces in the promotion of education in the state shortly after it was admitted to the union, were of almost exactly opposite characters. Peter Cartwright, said Dr. McClelland, was entirely lacking in formal education and in the outward polish of a gentleman. Primarily, he was a short, stout man of action, who was born in Virginia, moved to Kentucky where he spent his childhood in the wilds, and at the age of 16 knew how to play cards, and race horses. His mother was a devout Methodist, but in spite of this, one of Cartwright's brothers was hanged and a sister lived a life of debauchery. One brother became a local minister in Kentucky.

Joins Methodist Church

Shortly after his 16th birthday, however, Cartwright became converted and joined the Methodist church. After his conversion his family in 1802 moved to Lexington County, Ky., where Cartwright attended for a short time Brown's academy. He learned rapidly, but because of a difference of opinion on religious principles, his schooling closed very shortly after it began.

For twenty years, from the time he was 18 until he was 38, he was assigned to the Methodist circuit in Kentucky, Tennessee, Southern Ohio and Indiana. He was a perfect physical specimen, and had a tremendous force of character at an early date.

Cartwright was transferred to the Illinois circuit in 1824 at his own request, in order to remove his family from the evils of slavery, to teach his children to work where work was not considered to be degrading, and to better his "temporal circumstances."

He established his home near Pleasant Plains, and was appointed to the Sangamon circuit. Black Oak Grove at Ebenezer and the Hebron church campground were his favorite preaching places near Jacksonville. In the city he preached at the Centenary church. Although Cartwright was an avowed foe of slavery, he was opposed to subversive methods of combating the evil.

Twice Cartwright was elected to the general assembly, during which terms he introduced several bills having to do with education. He was a member of numerous committees and a chairman of many of them. Cartwright made one other attempt to be elected to a public office but was defeated by Abraham Lincoln.

For Education

Although he gained the reputation of being opposed to education, nothing was further from the truth. At the age of 82 he wrote that he had given more to educational institutions and colleges than any other preacher in the state.

Cartwright gained his reputation of being opposed to education because of his attacks on Calvinistic and Baptist ministers who came into the territory. He was particularly harsh with the Calvinists, a group of missionaries out of the eastern seminaries, who came armed with the sword of the truth. Cartwright insisted that the people in that part of the nation wanted men who could speak without notes. He also was given the reputation because he did not favor theological training for Methodist ministers, a stand which he took because Calvinistic theories were being taught in a large number of schools.

Cartwright, in fact, Dr. McClelland stated, actually set-up the system which was furthered by the public schools of the state. He accomplished this through the church, organizing seminaries and academies in connection with the churches throughout his district. Cartwright for more than 50 years was a presiding elder.

Not only was Cartwright interested in the founding of MacMurray college, but he also was interested in the founding of McKendree college at Lebanon, and of Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington. In speech, the rugged Virginian was vitriolic, sarcastic and straight to the point.

Edward Beecher

Edward Beecher, on the other hand Dr. Carl E. Black stated, represented a line of cultural people, outstanding in the history of early America, the Lyman Beechers.

At the time he accepted the call to come to Jacksonville, he was serving as pastor of the Park Street church in Boston, one of the most powerful churches in the east. H.S. CONCERT TO BE TONIGHT

May Queen To Be Crowned During Program At School

At eight o'clock tonight in the high school auditorium, the annual Choral Concert and crowning of the May Queen will be held. The program is sponsored by the J.H.S. music department and is being directed by Miss Lena Mae Hopper.

In addition to the various songs rendered by the choral clubs, a group of selections will be sung by Miss Sarah Mason of Chicago, a former resident of this city. Miss Mason has acquired an enviable reputation as a soprano, having appeared with well known singers on several occasions.

The first part of the evening will be given over to the choral concert. Numbers will be offered by the Treble Clef Club, the Boys' Glee club, the High School Choir, and the special Junior-Senior group. Many new songs have been prepared for this concert and carefully worked out by the singers. Miss Mason will appear during this part of the program.

The crowning of the May Queen is one of the feature events of the entire school year. The members of the girls' Treble Clef club vote upon the senior who has established the finest record in high school music. The one receiving the greatest number of votes is the May Queen and the one setting the second largest number is the maid of honor. The identity of the queen and the maid of honor is not announced until the evening of the festival. The celebration will include several dances directed by Miss Katherine Frenzle. The stage has been attractively decorated, Mary Hope Osborne, a senior, having designed the settings as part of her art work.

Miss Miriam Havighurst will accompany the choral work and Miss Mary Formey will play for the guest artists.

Final rehearsals for the concert were held yesterday and an enjoyable and interesting program is promised for this evening's entertainment.

CLASS MARKS GUEST DAY HERE

The Wednesday class entertained on its annual Guest Day Thursday afternoon at the David A. Smith House, where an address of unusual interest was given by Professor H. J. Stratton, of Illinois college.

The members and friends were received by the officers Dean Clara B. Williams, Mrs. U. G. Woodman, Mrs. Courtney Crouch Wright and Mrs. Miller War.

Dean Williams, as president, graciously opened the meeting and welcomed the guests and presented the speaker of the afternoon, Professor Stratton, as one eminently qualified as head of the social science department of Illinois college to speak upon the subject—"A Positive program of Laisses Faire," gave the address.

In his opening remarks Professor Stratton used as a sub-title "America Must Choose." He also stressed the point that generally economic takes the form of economic gospel, particularly marked in recent years in gatherings of any kind. First trivialities and personalities are hindrances, then minds are often filled with misconceptions. Prejudices are often stumbling blocks to true economic discussions.

"There are many characteristics or choices of managed economy. Fixing of prices and output, are attractive arguments, but are dangerous. A democratic government cannot stand the strain of planning resources or distribution of income, for it would become a storm center. Pressure groups or lobbyists would turn it into a dictatorship.

"The second choice might be restoration of competition. Inimical circumstances were in the old system, monopoly, tariff laws, unsuccessfully controlled public utilities and railroads, growth of giant corporations, unlimited grants of power and inequality of income.

A program suggested by Professor Stratton was one of Laisses Faire or restoration of competition. The speaker stressed the fact that although he recognized some weaknesses in competition nevertheless he valued and realized its power. "It keeps business even fighting among themselves and keeps them from uniting against the government. A program eliminating monopolies, reducing tariff, altering tax laws is advisable. A government cannot succeed half competition and half monopoly. The government's actions of the past 2 years have been a confusion of purpose in the A.A.A. and N.R.A.

"The cause of the depression may be lack of adjustment, some prices fell, some wages fell, but in some instances, as the building trade prices are still too high.

"There are weak spots in the administration measures, tariff, taxes have been arranged so that they tend to pauperize the wealthy pay less than other classes. A system of 100 percent against all bank deposits is advocated in this program. Public utilities should be regulated. The holding utilities are not advocated, however the operating utilities are doing well. Competition should be automatically restored and possibly increased government control in certain fields.

"Although this program, the speaker said, might not lift men to Utopian fields still it might be a method of getting out of difficulty and keeping posterity from plunging in again."

Following the very informing and constructive address refreshments were served in the dining room, where Mr. Van Meter and Dean Clara B. Williams presided at the tea table, which was attractively arranged with a large center bouquet of roses and spring flowers. Baskets of lilacs and pink dog-wood added to the charm of the rooms throughout the colonial home.

ELDER'S GROUP PLANS PROGRAM

The Elders association of Jacksonville has prepared a splendid program for all Presbyterian men of the local and surrounding Presbyterian churches. The meeting will be held at the State Street Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Miss Beulah Stewart and Miss Bernadine Bush will present several musical numbers, on the xylophone and piano.

Clarence Rice, president of the Elder Association will preside. Members from Bates, Arenzville, Woodson,
